Horace B. Chance has been appointed assistant superintendent of the Santa Fe telegraph system west of Albuquerque, embracing 1,000 miles of wire. Mr. Chance succeeds the late Mr. Andrew Smith in his new position.

Yesterday was another rest day for many of the local notables in the recorder's office. They came in groups, and for single calls. The highest number located by any single party was eight, two parties filing eight each. Another party filed notices for five calls.

R. N. Fredericks has sold his North Granite street residence to D. D. McDonald, who will take possession of it about August 1. Mr. Fredericks and family will move to the new residence of F. M. Murphy during the time occupied for the building of his residence which is now in progress.

August number of 10 Story Book is out and contains the best collection of ten clever stories which the readers of this popular magazine have been led to expect. Open Road heads the list with a character story, "A Successful Liear," by Edward W. Townsend, widely known for his "Chimney Fadden" stories, contributes a bright sketch entitled "Where the Millions Come From."

P. Moha & Co., the new undertaking firm, has an advertisement in this issue. The place of business is located just north of Bruinkeyer's hotel, and is fitted up in the very latest style for such undertakings. They have also ordered one of the finest funeral cars that could be procured, and propose to carry on the business in an up to date manner in every particular.

J. F. Hesse, who has been connected with J. B. Girard, has been appointed assistant U. S. engineer under Major Walcott, and is engaged under the supervision of the latter in making surveys of the new building to be erected at Whipple.

The reception tendered Mrs. Imogen L. Chance by the ladies of the W.C.T.U. yesterday, at the residence of Mrs. J. L. Munds was a very pleasant affair. The new Mrs. Chance's residence was thronged with ladies during the two hours of the reception, among the number present being several Phenix ladies, from Iron Springs, where they are sojourning during the heated term. Cooling refreshments were served and a number of musical selections rendered and the time passed pleasantly.

Mrs. L. Chance is president of the Territorial Women's Christian Temperance work and in the past year has organized a Sabbath school in the suburbs of Whipple, in which she gives much of her time.

Don't forget the cantata "The Lady of Shalott," at Dake's opera house on Friday night, July 25th. The chorus of twenty-two voices is composed of our best lady vocalists. The soloists will be Mrs. Ward as leading voice, a lady who is always heard with pleasure, Mrs. Long, a sweet sympathetic singer, and Miss Crilly and Miss Cline, two of Prescott's popular young ladies of no small musical ability. The trio sung by Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Martin and Miss Block is alone worth the price of admission. The chorus has been carefully drilled, and with Mrs. Cline at the piano, is certain to be admirably supported. It will be worth while to pay attention to the piano score of this cantata, for it is an exquisite composition, and the skillful fingers of Mrs. Cline do it full justice.

From Thursday's Daily.

George N. Conrad has purchased the O. K. corral and livery stable from Mrs. Dougherty.

H. E. Amittage is in town from Castle Creek, where he is engaged in mining, being superintendent of the Hercules mine there.

The assessment roll of this county for 1902 foot up $5,229,759.91, as against $4,336,834.34 for 1901, or an increase of nearly $1,000,000. This will enable the board of supervisors to make a reduction on the tax rate.

A gentleman in a position to know whereof he speaks, states that the appropriation of $120,000 recently made for rebuilding Whipple is only a fair starter. He says that before the improvements contemplated are completed it will require close to $1,000,000.

The shaft house of the Hercules mine, on Castle Creek, was destroyed by fire last Monday. The only plausible theory for the origin of the fire is that it was caused by the heat rays of the sun. A tank with a lot of gasoline in it exploded and damaged the hoist somewhat.

Sam Rose, president of the Citizens' National bank of Okmulgee, Indian territory, has been in Prescott several days. Mr. Rose brought his wife to Phenix in May hoping that the climate might afford her relief from tuberculosis from which she is suffering. She has not, however, been having an opposite effect on her, she was brought to Prescott, arriving here about three weeks ago and has been in Mercy hospital ever since. Her condition about ten days ago became alarming and Mr. Rose was telegraphed for, but since his arrival she has greatly improved and her condition is now considerably favorable so that she expects to return to his home on Saturday.

Su Wah, the leper, is here no more. He was duly and properly escorted by representatives of the Santa Fe refrigerator line, to be run in the future as a separate corporation. The refrigerator service will be under the management of E. H. Davis, who has been appointed general manager.

The Golden Gate Revival brigade from John O. Dunbar states that in the last few months he has lost over fifty pounds in weight, making him about 120 pounds at the present time. The letter also says that some days Mr. Dunbar is able to walk as much as a block, and on other days he is unable to move. He tried a dip in the ocean last week but was forced to give up the pleasure on account of weakness.—Democrat.

Judge R. E. Sloan today decided that a few days recently, on his way to Phenix, said that Prescott is the biggest city in the United States west of New York.

Miss Francis Kautz will recite the composition of the cantata "The Lady of Shalott" on Friday evening. Miss Kautz is a very talented young lady and her recital of this will be most artistic.

The assessment roll of this county for 1902 foot up $5,229,759.91, as against $4,336,834.34 for 1901, or an increase of nearly $1,000,000. This will enable the board of supervisors to make a reduction on the tax rate.

One will be a store building 100x40 feet, two stories and a basement. The other will be an office structure, a part of which, 32x32 feet, will be two stories and an equal area one story. They will be built of Phenix brick. Work has already been commenced.

A telegram from Bisbee says that the Cananea railroad was sold to the Southern Pacific last week. The price was not made public, but it requires seven figures to make the amount in figures. It is claimed by some that the new company has been formed, of which W. C. Greene is president and Harriman and Randolph are directors. The road runs from Naco, on the border, to Cananea, Mexico, a distance of forty-five miles.

In looking over the program for Friday night at Dake's opera house, one should not fail to notice the orchestra numbers. This organization is a credit to our city and its services on such occasions is a courtesy which our citizens should appreciate. It is few towns the size of Prescott that can boast so finished an orchestra as is this body of musicians.

Though born in Jamaica, West Indies, Lewis Morrison, the actor, intends to spend the balance of his days in San Francisco, where he has purchased a handsome residence and from May to September each year takes an active interest in things civic and theatrical. The famous Mephisto is prominent in social events and a great favorite of the large colony of professional gentlemen in the Pacific coast metropolis.

Judge A. L. Morrison, collector of internal revenue for Arizona and New Mexico, has received the following letter from the office of the commissioner of internal revenue at Washington: "Your office was examined on the 31st instant by Revenue agent A. L. Davis, who reports the cash and stamp accounts in balance, the records neatly kept and posted to date, the office free of debt and attentive to duty and the office in good condition generally. The report on form 188, shows that the lists are in balance. The grade of your office is fixed at No. 1."

"The house that Jack and Jill Built," the title of an illustrated story, the first section of which appears in the August Delicater, will appeal to home lovers everywhere. So cleverly has the author told the story, that the reader enters thoroughly into the spirit of it, and almost feels that he will have the right and title to the sails when finished. Unlike the usual house plans and descriptions, the smallest details are here presented, from the first rock laid to the last decorative touch inside.

The experiences of Phenix with the rain clouds are very similar to those of Prescott, and will be seen by the following from the Republican: "There was never a more threatening storm than one that hovered over Prescott on Friday evening, and it was not until the minutes of the afternoon. It was two hours getting ready for the demonstration and then made an inglorious fizzle of it. It rained just enough to let the optimists win their bets, but not a great deal of money changed hands, for even the pessimists who have been swearing that it would never rain in this valley again were unwilling to put their money against such strong indications."

Attorney Cruikshank, who has been one of the counsel for James Shirley in his litigation here, left on today's train for his home in New York. Mr. Cruikshank is a very able attorney and is one of the attorneys employed by W. A. Clark. He is a member of the firm of Atwater & Cruikshank. This is his second visit to this section, and he is very favorably impressed with the country as well as with the people he has met here.

Born, in Prescott, Arizona, July 26, 1902, to Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Detweiler, a daughter. The estimable parents and the little lady are rejoicing over the event and are the recipients of hearty congratulations from many.

Attorney Cruikshank was so favorably impressed with Prescott, its people and surroundings, that before leaving yesterday for his home, he expressed his intention of returning here with his wife to spend his vacation.

The ladies taking part in the cantata last evening presented a very beautiful appearance on the stage. It is hoped that they may get up another entertainment of this kind soon as their efforts were certainly much appreciated by the people of Prescott.

A rain storm lasting for two hours visited Seligman on Thursday of last week, during which three inches of rain fell. It was the finest rain that section has had for several years. The dam in China wash above Seligman, filled with water to a depth of over twelve feet, while the railroad dam east of Seligman had about eight feet of water in it.

The Congregational Church, corner East Gurley and Alarcon streets—The Sabbath evening service will be discontinued until September. The Sabbath morning service will continue as usual. Special preparation will be given to the music for this service, and a cordial invitation is given the general public to attend. Tomorrow at 11 a. m., the pastor, Rev. H. B. Long will preach on the theme: "The New Kingdom and How Established."

Su Wah, the Chinese leper who was held so long in Albuquerque, where he came from to Albuquerque. He El Paso Herald, said that he was met on his arrival in El Paso by Charles Meehan, Chinese immigration inspector, with an old wagon. Su was put into it and quietly and without any stir or ostentation, driven to the old laundry near the Sierra Madre depot in Juarez, and dumped out. He is now in the hands of the Chinese authorities to be disposed of as the Mexican authorities see fit. The Chinese man is in horrible shape, and all bandaged up. Meehan says he had no curiosity to examine him, but got rid of his job as quickly as possible. The Santa Fe company charged the government $50 for taking him from Albuquerque to El Paso.

SHIRLEY-MITCHELL CASE.

Trial Concluded With Briefs to Be Filed Hereafter—Defense Resorts to Desperate Tactics Today.

The trial of the case of James Shirley against Geo. Mitchell, which is an outgrowth of the Cobre Grande litigation, was concluded today and submitted to the court. Each side was given fifteen days in which to file briefs. The defense resorted to tactics today which have caused considerable unfavorable comment, and which has not helped their case in the minds of the general public, by the introduction of testimony attempting to impeach the reputation of the plaintiff. In rebuttal of this, Mr. Shirley subpoenaed some of the best business men of the city, including his mayor, all of whom testified to his reputation for truth and veracity being good.

Mr. Shirley resided in Prescott for about twenty years and during that time he exhibited remarkable energy and perseverance, and has succeeded in attracting a large amount of capital to this section of the territory, for the development of mines, and a man without at least a fairly good reputation could not have accomplished what he has succeeded in doing.

At the inception of the Cobre Grande deal Mr. Shirley's reputation seemed to have been good enough to satisfy both Mr. Green and Mr. Mitchell. It is now, however, that it has suffered since, there may possibly be a way of accounting for it.

During the period of his residence here, like a great many others, he had his ups and downs, but during it all we have never known his reputation or character having ever been called in question.

A Delightful Evening.

Last evening Mrs. James M. Baker entertained the members of the Eastern Star at her home on North Montana street. Cards, music and a gramophone assisted the pleasure seekers in making a merry evening, but perhaps the most amusing feature was the guessing contest, in which fifty articles in more or less common use were displayed on a table, and after marching twice around the collection the guessers were provided with cards and given ten minutes in which to make a list of the articles. Some of the most about so high and looked so, and "What on earth is its name?" were frequent from the gentlemen's corner, and some then went out of the room to make a tour of the kitchen before trying another contest of this kind. The ladies naturally came first better, and Mrs. Asch won first prize with forty out of the possible fifty; the winning gentleman scored twenty-one—not without suspicions of prompting from feminine quarters. Teas and cakes were served after the contest, and the evening closed delightfully, with many thanks to Mrs. Baker for the pleasure she had given. Mrs. Baker was assisted by Mrs. John Burns and the Misses Crouch. Miss Nellie Crouch, who is a violinist of great power, played the "Holy City" and received warm applause. The dinner in China wash above Seligman, filled with water to a depth of over twelve feet, while the railroad dam east of Seligman had about eight feet of water in it.

HONEST DICK TATE

The Absconding State Treasurer of Kentucky Who Disappeared Twelve Years Ago

Was He Charles Hill Who Recently Died in Los Angeles, Leaving One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars?

Richard Tate was treasurer of Kentucky for many years. He was very popular with the people and obtained the sobriquet of "Honest Dick" Tate. One morning about twelve years ago, he suddenly disappeared from the capital of Kentucky, leaving his family behind him. Upon examination of his accounts as treasurer, he was found to be about $250,000 short, and the indications were that he had taken most of that sum with him. Detectives were put on his track, but nothing was ever heard of him and he was completely lost as if he had swallowed him.

A few days ago, a man calling himself Charles Hill, died in Los Angeles. He had been living in a room by himself for several years and took his meals at a restaurant. He died of a heart attack. He was a Kentucky native and had been in the hospital for treatment. It was soon discovered that he was on his death bed, and those in charge of the hospital tried to learn something about him. He had a home and family, but he declined to answer any question along this line and remained strangely silent and his life went out surrounded by mystery.

After his death a key to a box in a safe vault was found in his pocket, and when the same was opened by his administrator it was found to contain $142,000 in cash. It is never known whether Charles Hill was none other than Richard Tate.

Judge Hanson Kennedy of Kentucky who is sojourning in this city for the purpose of attending to business from the Los Angeles Herald, asking for a description of Tate as he appeared when last seen in Kentucky, and the question as to the identity of Hill and Tate is now being considered.

LAST NIGHT'S MUSICAL.

A Splendid Entertainment at Dake's Opera House Under Direction of Mrs. Ross.

The opera house was filled last evening to witness the production of the "Lady of Shalott," and from the applause and encore given it was evident that the audience appreciated the entertainment.

An interesting and varied program was rendered prior to the production of the cantata at which several musicians appeared for the first time before a Prescott audience and established themselves at once in the good graces of our music loving people. These were Mrs. Sloan and Dr. Yount in a quartette with Mrs. Ross and M. C. Hazeltine; Miss Helen Burmister, in a piano solo; Mrs. Remington, in a vocal solo; F. C. Collier, in a vocal solo, and Miss Donna Wilson, in a piano solo. Each of these is a valuable acquisition to the musical circles of Prescott, and each was accorded an encore last evening.

Other numbers on this part of the program was a piano solo by Miss Bailey and a vocal solo by Mrs. Ross.

The "Lady of Shalott" is a very fine musical composition, and under the very able direction of Mrs. Ross and the efficient drilling which she had previously given those taking part in it, it was rendered in a most interesting and pleasing manner. The soloists in the cantata were Mesdames Ward and Long and Misses Criley and Cline, the latter also making her debut as a soloist. She is possessed of a very sweet voice which is well trained and she is destined to make her mark as a musician.

Miss Frankie Kautz, an artist in the poem, which set to music forms the cantata, and displayed remarkable ability in this direction. Her voice was as sweet as a song, and she was accompanied on the piano and it is needless to add, did so perfectly.

Mrs. H. D. Ross certainly deserves very great credit for this admirable entertainment, as she not only demonstrated her own abilities as a musician, but that she possesses wonderful tact and skill as a musical director, a trait not often found among women among even the best musicians.

One thousand pounds of old type babbitt metal. Will be sold in quantities to suit. Apply at Journal-Miner office.

A Pleasant Dinner Party.

James Shirley and Wm. Vanderbilt entertained about a score of friends at dinner last evening in the large private dining room of Hotel Burke. The menu was very elaborate and was certainly very creditable to the change of the culinary department of the hotel.

The guests were representative citizens of Prescott and the affair was a very enjoyable one to all present. While the dinner was informal, toasts were offered to the hosts by Judge J. J. Hawkins, which was responded to very felicitously.

Messrs. Shirley and Vanderbilt, while old time residents of Prescott, have been absent for a number of years, and have received a most cordial welcome on their return to this time. They will leave in a day or two again for New York, where they are engaged in working up a mammoth deal for a property in Alaska which involves the opening up of an immense copper property, the building of a railroad and also the building of a town.
